

On the Green

EDWARD MINER GALLAUDET MEMORIAL LIBRARY
GALLAUDET COLLEGE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

VOL. III, NO. 21
March 20, 1974

SUSPENSE, THRILLS AND CHILLS

"Angel Street," a Victorian thriller, will be presented by the Gallaudet College Theatre April 5-6 and 12-13 at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium. Patrick Hamilton's masterpiece of suspense tells the demonic story of the Mannings of Angel Street in London during the 1880's.

Mr. Manningham, portrayed by Joseph Castronovo, under the guise of kindness, is torturing his wife, played by Billie Jordan. A benign police inspector, Rough (Matt Searls), befriends Mrs. Manningham and tries to prove to her that her husband is a maniacal criminal who wants to dispose of her. The drama revolves around Rough's attempts to discover the necessary evidence against Mr. Manningham.

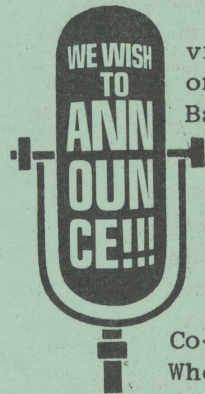

The production, directed by Gil Eastman, includes authentic antiques in the set designed by Jeff Grandel. Interpreters are under the direction of Jo Tracy.

Tickets are $2.50 for general admission and $1.50 for students and children.

AMONG OURSELVES

Leonard Downes has been selected for induction in the 1973 American Athletic Association of the Deaf Hall of Fame.... Bob Davila attended a board meeting of the Communicative Skills Program in San Antonio on March 11-13. Bob also served as editor of the Proceedings of the PRWAD Conference in Arizona last month and recently addressed a psychology class at Western Maryland College....Also at Western Maryland College recently, Mary Elsie Henegar conducted a cued speech workshop for graduate students....If you have had problems reaching Kanny Kannapel, you might try calling her on her new phone number, 873....Mary Furey has been asked to serve as associate director of the Experimental Preparatory Project. In addition to her present duties coordinating instructional materials development and implementation, she will deal with many of the action items arising from Educational Technology staff meetings, as well as administrative functions.

Ruth Peterson will be interviewed on "Profiles," a weekly one-half hour program on WBAL-TV, Baltimore, Maryland, March 24, at 10:30 p.m.

Several months ago, Ruth demonstrated candle making on TV as part of a continuing education program sponsored by the University of Maryland Co-operative Extension Service. When Mr. Paul Berman, host and director of "Profiles" learned of Ruth's appearance, he invited her to be a guest on his show.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

CLERK-TYPIST: Psychology
CLERK-TYPIST: Educational Technology
CLERK-TYPIST: MSSD
DIRECTOR OF CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT AND RESEARCH: Continuing Education
ADULT BASIC EDUCATION SPECIALIST: Continuing Education
SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE DEAN: Continuing Education
PLACEMENT OFFICER: Counseling and Placement
MANAGER OF BUSINESS AFFAIRS: MSSD
ELECTRONIC TECHNICIAN: Educational Technology
EDUCATIONAL CONSULTANT: Educational Technology
DIRECTOR, INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CENTER: Educational Technology
CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGIST: Counseling and

Placement

PAINTER: Physical Plant
STATIONARY ENGINEER: Physical Plant
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR: Kendall School
SIGN LANGUAGE TEACHERS: Kendall School
CUSTODIAN: Physical Plant

AROUND AND ABOUT

--Notices for the rental of academic gowns for participants in the Commencement Exercises have been sent to all department chairmen. Deadline for acceptance of orders is April 4. See Linda Carr in the Bookstore.

--The third captioned program of the PBS "Captioning for the Deaf" experiment will be shown on Friday, March 29, from 9-10 pm. in the Edward Miner Gallaudet Library. An episode from the Masterpiece Theater's "Upstairs, Downstairs" will be shown.

--George Washington University's Continuing Education for Women staff is offering a three-day workshop April 29 through May 1, to demonstrate to other universities how to start their own programs. Information will be offered on how to develop curricula, train staff, initiate programs without funding and use testing to assist women in evaluating themselves. For further information call Dr. Ruth Osborn at 676-7035.

--Need a house sitter? Two Gallaudet students, Sylvia Littleton and Mary Arrington, will be working in D.C. this summer and would like to house sit for you if you plan to be away. Contact Sylvia at P.O. Box #766. Hank Klopping can be contacted as a reference.

--A display of paintings loaned by Robert Harmon and Nancy Lasky is in the Thornberry Hearing and Speech Center through April 19th. All are invited to stop by Monday through Friday from 9-5.

ON LOAN....

William Lytle, a systems specialist with the Xerox Corporation in Rochester, New York, has been granted six months social service leave by his company to carry out a research-implementation-evaluation study in the area of Career Education for the Center for Continuing Education.

Mr. Lytle, who has been interested in deafness for some time, served as an interpreter in Rochester, taught sign language to hearing employees at Xerox and assisted in the implementation of a sign language high school equivalency study program at Xerox.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Sharon Williams has brought to our attention an interesting case now before the Supreme Court, which could affect university and college affirmative action programs.

The case involves Marco DeFunis, Jr., a student at the University of Washington, who has filed suit against the university for refusing him admittance to its law school while admitting 36 minority applicants. Mr. De Funis is challenging the University's use of special criteria for minority group members.

he Board of Directors and the President of Gallaudet College
request the honor of your presence at the Dedication Ceremonies of Clerc Hall
Saturday, April 6, 1974
2:00 p.m.
Gallaudet College Auditorium
Reception following in Clerc Hall

ON THE GREEN is published each week for the faculty and staff of Gallaudet College by the Office of Alumni and Public Relations. Deadline for news: Monday, noon!

Judy Bortner, editor

Judy